U.S. Army Engineer
Research and Development Center

Overview

Introduction

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers research scientists and engineers are continuously providing state of the science environmental technologies to assist the U.S. Army and the Department of Defense in accomplishing their highest priority missions.

Work Includes

- Improving military environmental protection.
- Providing environmental related leadership within the areas of environmental cleanup, conservation, compliance, and pollution prevention.
- Promoting environmental awareness.

Points of Contact

Dr. John Barko (CEERD-EV-E)
(601) 634-3654; fax: (601) 634-2430
John.W.Barko@erdc.usace.army.mil

Dr. John Cullinane (CEERD-EM-J)
(601) 634-3723; fax: (601) 634-2854
John.M.Cullinane@erdc.usace.army.mil

Ms. Debra Goodman (CEERD-EV-B)
(601) 634-3841; fax: (601) 634-4838
Debra.R.Goodman@erdc.usace.army.mil